The instant application claims are identical to those originally filed in parent application US Serial No. 10/175,673, now US Patent No. 6,736,812. The only difference in the instant application claims and the claims in the '812 patent are the result of an Examiner's Amendment made in the parent case. The reasons the instant application claims are deemed to distinguish over the prior art is the same as the reasons asserted in the parent application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-7 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 1 and 14 are unclear with the scope of the claims. Claim 1 recites finger rings "adapted to receive a medical device" (line 4), which is deemed to be an intended use limitation (i.e. the medical device is not positively claimed). However, line 5 then recite that the medical devices have an end "secured within the handle". It is therefore unclear whether or not the applicant intends to positively recite the medical devices, or merely inferentially recite them. Similarly, claim 14 recites a handle body that "can be coupled to a catheter" (line 3) which only inferentially recites the catheter. However, lines 10-12 of the claim 14 then positively recites a finger ring that moves the medical devices "into and out of the catheter" thereby positively reciting the catheter.

Clarification of the claims is required.

Art Unit: 3739

Also, claim 14 lacks proper antecedent basis for "the distal end of the handle body" at line 8.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-14 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-14 of U.S. Patent No. 6,736,812. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they recite only minor, obvious differences.
